We actively encourage families to provide feedback about their experiences with REED services at any time. It is our policy that any concern or complaint is managed fairly and promptly. However, vexatious complaints will not be considered. If you have raised a concern, an independent person will be assigned to be responsible for dealing with the issue. Families can also be assured that all REED staff respect the privacy of the family when addressing any concern or complaint.

Your feedback form will be directed to: feedback@reedwa.org.au
